

Okay, so I'm a Club Officer.

Now what?

Most of us joined Toastmasters because we wanted to become more confident, better speakers. We wanted to communicate with people clearly, have them understand us, follow us. We wanted to be better leaders.

Now as a Club Officer your club has put its trust in you: you're one of its leaders.

You can advance your skills at Club Leadership Training. You'll have an opportunity to meet your counterparts in other clubs, talk to them, learn from them, and learn from others who have been there and done that before.

The second round of training is about helping members achieve their personal goals. See details of dates and venues overleaf.
